Tax collectors were agents of the oppressive empire, and they also had a reputation for extorting more than they had to collect. Jesus' calling Matthew to follow him showed that Jesus not only associated with "bad guys," he welcomed them into his inner circle. On the 40th day after Easter Sunday, Jesus appeared to his disciples, ascended into Heaven and was seated at the right hand of God, as told in Mark 16:19-20, Luke 24:50-53, and Acts 1:6-12. Luke and Acts The "Gospel of Luke" and the "Acts of the Apostles" are both parts of the same story with one following directly after the other. The two parts, or books, were written by Luke as a narrative that is an orderly account of the story of Jesus and his first followers. Both were...
